VOLUME XXVI. NUMBER 17.

IRONTON, MO.
THURSDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1892.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce J. L. BALDWIN as a candidate for Constable of Arcadia Township, subject to the decision of the voters at the November election.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Columbian day, October 21st, was duly observed by the schools having a holiday.

Three houses for rent—two in Ironton and one in Pilot Knob. Apply to A. Riecke.

The first ice of the season formed last night, and the air this morning was stinging cold.

The change in the weather arrived last week, and from hence we expect little but cold and wintry days.

Remember the Columbian Church Festival at Pilot Knob Wednesday evening, October 23d. A grand time is assured.

Mrs. Lizzie J. Welch, half block west of the Blue Store, is prepared to do all kinds of plain sewing. Patronage solicited.

As provided by law, the REGISTER this week publishes a certified copy of the ballot to be used at the general election.

FOR SALE—A good, gentle family horse and park wagon. Also a fresh milch cow. Apply at once to Sam Andrews, Arcadia.

MARRIED—At Pilot Knob, Mo., Thursday, October 13th, 1892, ALBERT GOSSET of Farmington and Miss JULIA A. HOGAN of Pilot Knob, Rev. F. M. Shoush officiating.

It is rumored that the prospects for the employment of a number of additional men at Pilot Knob in the near future is quite good. We trust such will prove the case.

Mr. O. L. Davis of Piedmont and Mrs. Amanda Medley, formerly of Arcadia, were united in marriage at the home of the bride in Piedmont, Thursday, October 13th, Rev. J. W. Myrick officiating.

Hon. Robert H. Kern, a talented lawyer and able Democratic orator of St. Louis, will address the voters at Bismarck on Friday evening, October 28th. All who attend are assured of hearing a splendid and instructive speech.

To have heard Tom Whitledge last Saturday, one would have imagined that the promises of the McKinley bill had been really filled. The workingman hereabouts knows too well to the contrary, however. Where is that $2 a day and roast beef?

The replevin suit of the Orr & Lindsey Shoe Co. against Chas. K. Polk for possession of a pair of mules, was tried in the circuit court yesterday, and the judge instructed the jury to find for the plaintiff. This is one of the instances where the law refuses to permit the Judge and jury to render justice.

A concert and musical entertainment will be given in Workmen's Hall, Graniteville, on Thursday evening, November 10th, for the benefit of the Graniteville M. E. church. A most enjoyable occasion is assured. Admission, 35 cents; children, 15 cents. Posters with full particulars issued in a few days.

Judge Green arrived in town on the noon train Monday, and circuit court convened about two o'clock. Geo. W. Craine was appointed foreman of the grand jury, and the Judge delivered the usual charge to that body. The trial of the docket then began, and court will probably be in session all during the week.

Mac Macconroe, the jovial section foreman, of Arcadia, and Mrs. Myra Bell were united in marriage at the Soto on Sunday, October 23d, 1892. The happy couple reached the Valley Monday, and were the recipients of general congratulations from their many friends. The REGISTER offers best wishes for a long and blissful life.

H. H. Kiddle has a new delivery wagon that is a model of beauty and strength. The painting was done by Mr. Fred Kiddle and is truly a work of art. He has placed a little landscape on either side of the bed that shows true genius, indeed, and the lettering is as good as we ever saw. Mr. K. is certain to achieve fame and success in his calling.

Wm. Bartlett and Ben Reno, the two negro boys who have been in jail for several months on the charge of burglarizing J. N. Bishop's hardware store in July last, were arraigned in the Circuit Court yesterday, and both pleaded guilty to larceny. Bartlett, the elder one, received a sentence of three years in the penitentiary, and Reno six months in jail.

"Man proposes and God disposes." Our Republican leaders had arranged for a little surprise for the Democrats last Saturday. While outwardly making no efforts they had quietly passed word all over the county for the "faithful" to turn out en masse and hear the speakers. The wind blew, the storm came and the rain fell! And the ardor of their spirits was dampened, and the out of town attendance was slim, very slim, indeed!

Among other extravagant declarations of the Hon. Tom in his speech last Saturday afternoon was that the Republicans were different from the Democrats in that they always read both sides and turn out to hear the Democratic as well as Republican orators. Hon. Tom, this may apply to the world in general, but it does not hold good as to the Iron county Republican. There were more Democrats, three to one, out to hear Mr. Whitledge last Saturday, had as the weather was, than the writer has seen Republicans in attendance on all the Democratic speakers that have been here this year. And this has ever been the rule here.

"X," our Pilot Knob correspondent, now says that he can't vouch for the truthfulness of the drummer's statement in regard to forty Warner Democrats in Washington county. "X" does say, though, that he has some Democratic friends who are for Warner. How unfortunate! Why didn't "X" let us know of this sooner? An agent of the famous Ringling Bros. Circus was over here last week looking for a Warner Democrat; he was willing to pay a big price for him, too. They wanted to put him on exhibition. They had heard of this political monstrosity ever since they reached the West, but had been trying diligently ever since their arrival in the State to secure one of the freaks, and although they had offered large sums to secure one, thus far the effort had been a dismal failure. "X" gives us the names of your Warner Democrats, and if the circus isn't too far away we may yet be able to make a haul.

Occasionally we hear of some of the local Republicans getting together and discussing the issues of the campaign. As a rule they never argue with Democrats, but only talk among themselves or to some weak-kneed brother, who hasn't fully determined how he will vote. One of their favorite topics of conversation under such circumstances, we are told, is the force bill, and the manner in which they handle it is doubtless a source of wonder and admiration, gratifying even to the gods. One of the local lights is quoted as saying: "Well, now I tell you I have read the Lodge bill, and suppose I am the only person in the Valley who has a copy of it. It is just the proper thing; works no hardship on any one, and is just what we want. It's all stuff the Democrats say it will afford any unfair advantage to any one. Well, this Republican brother may mean well, but his memory is short. Residents of Iron county remember too well what the Republican leaders did here when they didn't have half the power delegated to them by the Lodge bill. One of the things they attempted when in office here was to abolish every voting precinct in the county save Ironton; hundreds of Democrats with every right to vote were stricken from the registration lists; intimidation and bulldozing were used on every hand. But why recount the list of indignities? They are familiar to all. We only mention them to show how wholly different are their promises now from their actions when they were in a position to take the advantage. We have yet to hear of a single Republican who denounces the outrages they perpetrated, and until they do generally and earnestly condemn those infamous acts, the country prefer not to rely on them for any spirit of fairness in political election. These reasons alone are enough to condemn the infamous force bill in the eyes of every fair man, but there are others, such as the federal government usurping state powers, and many others that it is unnecessary to cite here. No good citizen nor believer in the constitution of the United States can honestly support the force bill.

The Hon. Thos. B. Whitledge, of St. Marys, Mo., Republican candidate for Congress in this district, made an address at the courthouse in this city last Saturday afternoon. The Hon. Tom is a speaker, and, in the vernacular of the day, he made "a speech for your whiskers." If murdering language were an indictable offense the grand jury at present in session in this city would be kept busy for weeks finding true bills against the Hon. Tom., and when they concluded their labors, Prosecuting Attorney Jordan could resign, and take life easy the remainder of his days, for $5 a case in this instance would make him a millionaire. The weather was not propitious for the event, but notwithstanding, the courthouse was almost filled with the attendance being had. Democrats, Congressional Committee-Kiddle introduced the speaker who began his address in his inimitable construction of the King's English, with the stereotyped claim that the Republicans were responsible for all that tended to the country's prosperity, and the Democrats liable for all our calamities—he did not say so—but storm and pestilence not excepted. After complaining of the reapportionment of Missouri by the last Legislature, the speaker devoted his time, in turn to the tariff, money question, force bill and state issues. On the tariff, he used the same old worn-out arguments; contradicted himself innumerable times, and said nothing we haven't all heard often before. About all he knew of the money question was that there was no more in the history of the country, when we had state banks, and the value of the currency varied. The force bill he glided over with an attempt at witticism. Like all Republican orators he did not care to hold that infamous measure up to the light of day and even went so far as to maintain that the Republicans no longer cared for the enactment of such a law. On state matters he was brief, very brief indeed. Begged his hearers not to go back to the Republican's former record in this state, but to listen to the new song of the old charmer, and "stand up for Missouri." In closing he assured the audience that Warner would be elected and that his advancement to the governorship would mean thousands of immigrants for the state. That was all. It was the same old story. No logic, no history to back his statements, no evidence of fairness nor disposition to tell the truth. There wasn't a single idea advanced on any of the real issues of the day, that could not easily have been refuted by any ordinary boy, let alone a man. And yet we understand many of our Republican friends say it was "a splendid effort and just what we needed." How easy it is to persuade us when we see that way!

Now Try This.

It will cost you nothing and will surely do you good, if you have a Cough, Cold, or any trouble with Throat, Chest or Lungs, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds is guaranteed to give relief, or money will be paid back. Sufferers from La Grippe found it just the thing and under its use had a speedy and perfect recovery. Try a sample bottle at our expense and learn for yourself just how good a thing it is. Trial bottles free at P. R. Crisp's Drug Store. Large size 50c. and $1.

From Pilot Knob.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Owens, of Williams-ville, Mo., have been visiting the latter's mother, Mrs. P. Tierney. Mrs. Tierney and family leave to-day for Morenci, Ariz., where Mr. T. has been employed for the past few months.

Miss Marie Gockel has returned from Crystal City, where she has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. H. Ameitung. Dr. G. W. Farrar, Jr., has returned from his visit to Chicago. He describes in glowing terms the dedication of Chicago's "big show."

The Misses Schwab were the guests of the Misses Kath at last Sunday.

Mrs. H. J. Behrens is visiting friends at Bismarck.

The attendance at the weekly meeting of the Harrison and Warner Clubs, was smaller than usual last Friday night, on account of the severe rain. That story of its not having enough members to transact business is another Democratic campaign yarn. It has enough members to make the coming election in Pilot Knob quite interesting, while the Democrats at this place cannot poll a dozen votes all told. For mailing campaign yarns some of the Pilot Knob Democrats bear the palm.

The Globe-Democrat of the 24th inst. contains an interesting biography of Jack Haynes who will celebrate his 105th birthday at St. Louis, Mo., on Christmas day. Mr. Haynes was an engineer on the Iron Mountain when it ran no farther than Pilot Knob, and several of our older citizens were well acquainted with him in former days. One of them tells a little incident which happened to him at this place long in the '60s. Joseph Ferrier was then car repairer, and one day was at work on a damaged box car which stood on the track just back of where Mr. Immer's barn now stands. It was just dusk and coming around the curve, Haynes' locomotive struck the car, stoving in the end. Besides breaking the headlight, the engine was otherwise badly damaged, while the car around that immediate vicinity was full of scripture which our narrator says was not used in an exactly orthodox way.

Jim Jones was arrested to-day, charged with being the person who struck brakeman O'Brien with a rock. Pilot Knob has some pretty tough "young Americans," and perhaps this will serve as a warning that they have carried the devilry far enough. It is surprising that we can not have an officer of some kind at this place who will see that order is maintained. The railroad company is to a certain extent to be blamed, as the boys have ridden around the "Y" for years past, and as no serious objection seemed to be made, they (the boys) seemed to consider it a privilege. One of the crowd who frequently boards the accommodation, came near having something off a few evenings ago. If something is not done soon, we predict a death notice of some boy who has been killed by the train. "X" will not vouch as to the truth of Mr. Willis' statement, although we have been personal friends with Mr. W. for some years past, and know that under ordinary circumstances his veracity cannot be doubted. However, Mr. Editor, we have several staunch Democratic friends who are Warner Democrats.

Des Arc Items.

We have had a fine rain at last, which will enable farmers to finish sowing wheat.

Mr. Etta Russell, nee Chilton, died at her home near Brunot yesterday.

Mrs. E. W. Graves, who has been quite sick in St. Louis is expected home this week.

We are very sorry to hear of Jas. Hatten's sickness at Arcadia. Hope he will soon be on his feet again. H. N. Holladay also passed here to-day on his way into St. Louis. He is also in bad health. It would be a great loss to this country to lose such men as Holladay and Hatten.

The people around Des Arc don't seem to take much stock in going up to Ironton to hear our political speakers. When Dalton spoke, fifteen tickets were sent down for a free ride for the Democrats, and only one man went. He was a Republican, but that's all. Yesterday (Saturday) when Whitledge spoke, not a single man went from here. Still this precinct will give a two-thirds majority for Cleveland and Stone. And on the 8th of November, we will roll a stone away that will wash the Republicans as flat as a pancake.

I received an old war letter from my brother in Virginia yesterday. It is quite a relic to me. It is thirty years old and written by myself to my father and written with a lead pencil it was soon after the battle of Sharpsburg or Antietam, Md. It will be interesting to all Confederate soldiers. Here is a copy of it:

"SHEPHERD'S TOWN, Md.,
"DEAR PA—No doubt you all would like to hear from me, and as I have nothing to do this afternoon, will devote my time to writing to you. This leaves me quite well. I have not seen Bro. James since I left Orange court house, but his company is not far from here. Our duty has been quite light since we left Maryland.
"Myself and four other soldiers were on picket to-day, and two federal soldiers came over the river to us and gave us the Philadelphia Inquirer and we gave them the Richmond Inquirer (one of our papers). We do not shoot at each other any more while on picket, and the river is all that separates us and it is not over a half mile wide. We can see fifty or one hundred federal soldiers every day walking along the river bank and watering their horses."

Our main army is between Charleston and Winchester, recruiting from the hard fought battle of Antietam. The federal soldiers say they are sick and tired of this war. I hurt my horse's back very bad on that raid in Pennsylvania and Maryland, but he stands it well. I will close. Write soon and direct your letter to Co. I, 5th Reg't Fitz Lee's Brigade, J. E. B. Stuart's Division of Cavalry, Army of Northern Va., care Capt Boston.

From your son, THOS. P. FITZ.
Oct. 23, 1892. ISAAC.

Ed. Register—To give correctly the opinion and sentiments of numberless of spectators who attended the brass band concert and ball at Workman's Hall last Thursday evening would take up too much time and space, and we therefore omit any lengthy remarks, suffice it to say that the prevailing opinion of the effect that the entertainment elicited anything of the kind held in this place for many a day. The concert, strictly speaking, was what would be termed a musical one. The programme, as prepared by the members of the band, is thus given: Orchestra—"Sincerity"—Messrs. Simmons, 1st violin; Marshall and Stephens, 2d violin; Ferguson, violin cello; Milton and Hanson, solo B♭ cornet; Archie, tenor. Quartette—"Come Where the Lilies Bloom"—Misses Katie and Emma Phillips and Messrs. Murray and Brown. Song—"Angus McDonald"—Mrs. Geo. Donald. Quartette—"The Four Vagabonds"—supposed to be a comedy farce, Messrs. Wilson, Archie, Milton and Ferguson. Song—"The Holy Friar"—Mr. George Murray. Quartette—"Serenade to Sadie"—on brass instruments, Messrs. Hanson, Milton, Ferguson and Archie. Song—"Laddie"—Mrs. Geo. Donald. Orchestra—"Highland Wreath"—Messrs. Simmons, Marshall, Stephens, Hanson, Ferguson, Milton and Archie. Solo—"English, Irish and Scotch Airs"—violin, concertina and mandolin, Mr. Jas. K. Simmons. Quartette—"Good Night"—Misses Katie and Emma Phillips and Messrs. Geo. Murray and Alex. Brown. Mrs. Jas. K. Simmons and Mrs. Geo. Murray assisted at the organ, and to say that the programme was carried out in full and each and every part well rendered would be stating facts. The concert part of the evening's entertainment closed about 10 o'clock, after which the hall was arranged and the dancing commenced and kept up until 3 o'clock Friday morning, when all retired to their way homes, fully satisfied that they had been well repaid for their evening's amusement. The hall was filled to overflowing, regardless the inclement weather. Good order prevailed, and not one disturbing element was seen or heard to interrupt the programme from first to last. The net proceeds are about $32.

The writer hereof, in behalf of the members of the Graniteville Brass Band, wishes to express to those who lent their talent and assistance in taking part in the concert and thus making the affair a grand success, both socially and financially, their sincere gratitude, and also to the people of Graniteville for their liberal patronage. There is a move on foot now to get up some kind of an entertainment for the benefit of the M. E. church in the near future, of which particulars will be given later on. Those on the sick list are reported as improving, with, perhaps, the exception of Billy O'Brien, who is experiencing very little change. David Archie and family will move into part of Mrs. Newall's house to-day and E. J. Warrington and family will occupy the house vacated by Mr. Archie. Miss Carrie Davis of Ironton visited with Miss Josie Oelson a few days last week.

Columbian day was observed by most of our town folk Friday. Our district school closed in order that the children could celebrate the birth of our noble country.

Mr. T. B. Whitledge, Republican candidate for Congress in this district, spoke to a small crowd at Workman's Hall on Saturday evening last. He wanted everybody to stand up for a New Missouri. Now, gentlemen, do as he bade you: go to the polls and vote for Bill Warner, the man who can Romanize enough votes to elect himself, if necessary, and you'll find out the difference between a man of his caliber and Col. Wm. J. Stone by and by. An old farmer once bought a cow and calf in the vicinity in which we were living in Illinois, and while driving them home he met a bull, and the calf, to be a little contrary, turned round and took after the bull. The old farmer started after the calf, but not being fleet enough on foot gave up the chase in disgust, and finally yelled out, "Go it you d—n fool! You'll find out the difference at suckin' time!" And so it will be with those who vote to elect such men as these fellows clamoring for a "New Missouri": the difference will soon be found out. NOVICE.

Annapolis News.

J. J. Francis and wife are visiting a sister of Mrs. Francis' in Arkansas. Sam King sued some boys for cutting a lane on his land, but lost. A compromise was effected by the boys paying for the tree.

J. S. Jordan and J. B. Walker were in town Tuesday on legal business. Mr. Jordan stayed over until Wednesday to prosecute some fellows who were charged with stealing chickens. There was plenty of evidence, in fact the parties are said to have testified to having taken the chickens, but they offered to pay more for them the next morning than they were worth. The jury disagreed, and Mr. Jordan nolle prossed the case.

A little child of G. W. Lashley died Wednesday. How cold and cruel those words sound and yet how much of sorrow they convey. The silver cord has been loosened and the golden bowl broken. The little spirit has flown and the little body has been laid away, and around that family hearth there is a void, but the void in the hearts of those parents only those who have had a like sorrow can know.

While "Murphy" was at Sabula Thursday news of the death of J. H. Parks of Lesterville, a member of the Masonic lodge at that place, was brought to town.

C. C. Collins of Sabula has lately returned from a visit to Texas. When asked if there were any Democrats in Texas he said everybody wears a Cleveland badge down there. He said that times were lively and lots of business being done, although they complained of dull times.

Mrs. Dr. May presented fifty flags to the school children on Columbus day, and the little ones had a grand parade through the streets of Annapolis.

Some parties had an electric phonograph on exhibition here the other day. The Club meeting Friday night was not very well attended, owing the inclement weather, but, perhaps, the enthusiasm made up for want of members. The Club will meet again next Friday night. C. O. Rockwell will address the Club, and we hope to see the Esquire's office filled.

A gentleman by the name of Adams moved into town last week. He has land over in Reynolds county, and 'tis said, that he intends to open up a large sheep ranch. Sheep husbandry ought to pay in these parts, and we predict success for Mr. Adams, provided the dog crop is not too large.

A car loaded with lumber was wrecked at Clarkson Switch Saturday evening.

Two cars left the rail one mile north of Annapolis this morning, delaying Nos. 51 and 52, the latter about two hours. Second 75 was the unfortunate train.

John Woody arrived home to-day. Mrs. Eustice Rockwell has been very sick the past week, but is slowly improving. Dr. Strong of Ironton was called to attend her. MURPHY.

Block—Keesling.

At the residence of the bride's parents, Thursday evening, October 20th, 1892, at 6:40 o'clock P. M., Miss HATTIE KESLING of this place and Mr. HENRY BLOCK of Middlebrook were united in the sacred bonds of wedlock. The Rev. Olin Rose of Graniteville performed the sacred rites in a manner calculated to impress the high contracting parties and all others present with a due sense of the solemnity of the occasion.

The bride is the youngest daughter of the well-known H. L. Keesling, proprietor of the "Keesling Hotel," and her happy and cheerful disposition has made her one of the best-known young ladies of Ironton. She is a blue-eyed blonde, with clear complexion, of medium height and has a well-rounded form. "Hattie" was the pride of her parents and a general favorite with everybody. She was attired in cream colored brocade satin, made with long train and trimmed in blond lace, wore white kid gloves and white slippers and carried a bouquet of natural flowers, consisting of white pinks, white roses and rose-buds and ferns. The groom is one of Iron county's best known young men, having been born and reared here and is now in business at his old home in Middlebrook. He is a fine specimen of physical manhood, and has many friends who will rejoice with him in the prize he has won as a partner through life.

Miss Addie Pettit and Dr. Roger Gay acted as bridesmaid and groomsmen. They were beautifully attired and looked sufficiently comfortable and self-possessed to have been the principals in this drama of life. The bridesmaid was attired in white brocade satin, trimmed in white silk pointed lace and wore white kid gloves.

The ceremony was witnessed by about forty friends and relatives of the happy pair. Immediately after the ceremony and congratulations and oculations the dining-room doors were thrown open and revealed to the guests a large table tastefully arranged and fairly groaning beneath its burden of choice viands, to which all did ample justice, and to describe, which would occupy too much space, besides serving to tantalize those who were not present.

After supper and compliments to the hosts, renewed congratulations to the bride and groom and some social reminiscences, the guests departed, having spent a pleasant evening, notwithstanding the unpleasant weather. The happy couple left on the accommodation the following morning for St. Louis, where they will spend a few days seeing the sights and purchasing a housekeeping outfit, and then return to Middlebrook, their future home. May their life be one of unalloyed bliss.

Following is a list of presents, with the names of the donors: Wm Thomas, plush work-box; Mr. and Mrs. A. Winkler, ten-day clock—"oak"; Mrs. A. P. Vance, two fruit dishes; W. Trauer-nicht, handsome table spread, lace bed spread and shams; Mr. and Mrs. Rodack, folding-bed—"oak"; Mr. and Mrs. Chas Liggett, ten set and cake stand; Mrs. L. Block, beddings; Judge Emerson and wife, handsome water set; Mr. and Mrs. Eli Ake, table cloth and napkins and a handsome bouquet of roses; Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Whitworth, table cloth and napkins; Miss Belle Palmer, silk garment; Dr. Goulding and wife, silver butter dish; Retta Patton, table scarf; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fisher, set of goblets; Miss Kate Taylor, silver pie knife; G. W. Whitworth, Sr., silver cake-stand; W. H. Whitworth, silver tilting-pitcher; Miss Addie Pettit, puff box; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Keesling, silver casket; Mrs. S. Williams, majolica pitcher; Rev. Rose, one dozen napkins; J. N. Bishop and wife, handsome vase; Mrs. Trauernicht, table cloth and napkins; C. T. Mason, china tea set; W. P. McCarver, fine buggy whip; Mrs. Paul Patton, canary bird; Grandma Trauernicht, silver tray; Nat Mansfield, ivory pocket-book, gold bracelet and two ornamental hair-pins; C. H. Schneider, set of silver knives and forks and one-half dozen spoons.

Ed. Register—The fashion and elite of Ironton and vicinity gathered at the residence of H. L. Keesling, as per invitation, on the evening of the 20th inst., to witness the marriage of Miss Hattie L. Keesling to Mr. Henry Block. Rev. Rose of Graniteville officiating. Miss Hattie for the last few years been the leader of society here and will, no doubt, be missed by her many young friends of the Valley. Dr. Roger Gay, as bridesman, and Miss Addie Pettit, as bridesmaid, were (aside from the high contracting parties) the center of attraction. After the ceremony and congratulations the party were escorted to the spacious dining room and seated to a most elegant supper, such as Mrs. Keesling only knows how to prepare and serve, and where a bountiful supply of champagne added to make it one of the most enjoyable evenings long to be remembered by the happy recipients. The happy couple departed on the early morning train, taking with them the best wishes of their many friends, which embraces the whole community. On their return they will take up their residence at Middlebrook. A GUEST.
